COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

At Monday night's Selectmen's meeting, approximately 20 residents of Main Street and adjacent streets were present to voice their concerns about the actions of young adults on Main Street. Specific concerns identified were disturbing the peace, abusive language, larceny, vandalism, drinking, fighting, littering, and improper driving practices. Police Chief Stearns, Sheriff Howe, and Deputy Williams explained the recently amended State Criminal Code and how these changes in the law would help them in dealing with these problems. In addition to ongoing enforcement activities, Chief Stearns and Sheriff Howe will be working with the Town Manager to develop recommended actions for improving police services in the area.

In other actions, a Liquor License request for Freddie's Restaurant was approved as was a Beano License for the American Legion. Victualers licenses were approved for the Sudbury Inn, Martha's, Bethel Spa, Freddie's and Charlie's Place. Robert Crockett and Norman Ness were designated as members and John Gray as alternate to the Androscoggin Valley Regional Planning Commission.

Sumner Burgess, Louise Lincoln and Richard Harding (Water District Trustees) were present to request an advance on the town's hydrant rental payment for the third quarter of the year. These advanced funds were requested to help the Water District meet a debt payment due June 1. This request was approved by the Selectmen.

The Selectmen authorized the Town Manager to request the Department of Transportation to reclassify Lover's Lane and Cross Street. Such a reclassification, if approved, would place the town in a better position for receiving Federal funds to aid in the re-construction of these streets.

The Town Manager reviewed proposed railroad crossing improvements in West Bethel with the Selectmen. Following these discussions, the Selectmen authorized the Town Manager to have a more detailed plan of the area developed to provide additional information on the proposed changes. Once this information is developed the Town will be meeting with property owners in the area to discuss the proposed changes.

The next meeting of the Selectmen will be held at 6:30 p. m. on Monday, May 24, to enable the Selectmen to attend the S. A. D. #44 Budget Meeting at 7:30 p. m.

The Radio Study Committee met Tuesday night, May 11, at the Fire Station to discuss proposals from General Electric and Motorola for furnishing radio equipment to the town. Many questions were raised by the committee and the Chairman was requested to attain additional information for the next committee meeting. The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, May 18, at 7:30 in the Fire Station.

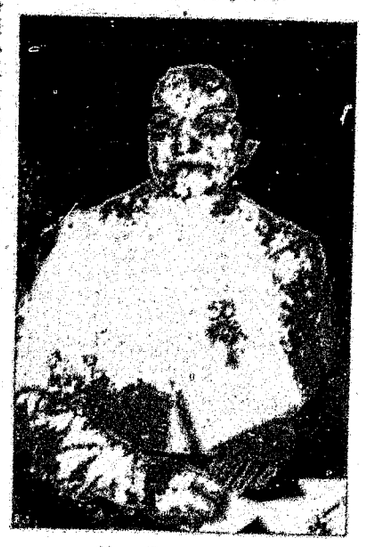
MRS. BROWN HONORED BY TRUSTEES AND STAFF AT BETHEL SAVINGS BANK

Mrs. Doris Brown was honored at a party given by the trustees and staff of the Bethel Savings Bank and its Harrison branch on Thursday, May 6. The occasion was an announcement of her forthcoming retirement, May 14, as teller, a position she has capably fulfilled for over 15 years.



Mrs. Doris Brown

The Community Room of the Bethel Savings Bank was appropriately decorated with spring flowers on a table on each side of the beautifully decorated large cake inscribed "Best Wishes on Your Retirment." The surprised guest was escorted to her place facing the gathering of friends and with appropriate remarks by President Raymond G. Moran was presented a corsage, a card befitting the occasion, and a beautiful painting of Screw Auger Falls, site of many Brown family picnics over the years, by Helen Morton of Newry. Mrs. Brown was not lacking for words in responding, recalling the pleasure derived from her work and association with other members of the staff and trustees for many years. Fellow workers assisted in the serving of the retirement cake, punch and coffee.

Doris Brown is a native of Andover, Maine, who came to Bethel in 1927 and has resided in this area all her life. She and her husband, Richard, live on Robinson Hill, Route 2, just outside the village. They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs. Raymond (Sally) Bradley of East Providence, R. I., Mrs. Phillip (Martha) Farrington, Bryant Pond, and Mrs. Charles (Dixie Lea) Thayer, Bangor.

Prior to her association with the Bethel Savings Bank, Mrs. Brown was secretary to Henry H. Hastings, Sr., Esq., and to Dr. S. S. Greenleaf, veterinarian.

When asked what she would do in retirement, Mrs. Brown was quick to respond that she would "fade but not retire". An avid gardener and student of nature from the days she lived on the farm, she plans to continue more intensely this hobby in her leisure time, to increase her service to people particularly among the young and elderly, and to enjoy her grandchildren. While no longer directly involved, she maintains interest in the schools and their activities in the ever important role they play in our society.

In her service role, Mrs. Brown has been for many years and continues to be representative and treasurer of the Bethel Unit of the Salvation Army. She is an attendant of the Bethel Methodist Church.

As she enters retirement, sincere best wishes of the trustees and staff of the Bethel Savings Banks and of her many friends go out for many years to do those things she enjoys best—service to others and concern for the well being of family, friends and acquaintances.

Miss Tibbetts paid tribute to the memory of Eva Bean and formally dedicated the archives room by reading from a plaque that will be placed in the room: "Eva Bean Research Room, built with Funds Provided by the William Bingham II Trust for Charity, 1975, dedicated to the Memory of Eva Marion Bean 1895-1969 whose Devotion to the Cause of Local History Shall Serve as an Inspiration to all who use these Facilities, 10th Anniversary, May 6, 1976".

Shettleworth briefly described the nature of his Commission's work, various types of structures worthy of preservation and their features.

Following Mr Shettleworth's presentation, refreshments were served highlighted by a magnificent cake made for the occasion and donated by Mrs. Leona Flint. Mrs Barbara H Brown provided an attractive spring centerpiece. Tours of the house were taken by several of the guests present.

At the monthly meeting held in the evening, the occasion was officially commemorated. President Tibbetts provided a brief survey of the afternoon's highlights and discussed briefly her hopes for the Society's future. The commemoration address was given by Marius B. DAY CARE CENTER IS BUSY AT WEST BETHEL

The walls of the West Bethel School are once again ringing with sounds of children's voices and the school on the Flat Road is bustling with activity. The Oxford County Economic Opportunity Council has recently opened the first state licensed Day Care Center at the West Bethel School. The renovated facility is also the new home of the Bethel Head Start program, which moved from its former center at the American Legion Hall.

Ms. Elizabeth Whitney, South Woodstock is coordinator/teacher for the new program and heads up a staff of five people. Ms. Whitney has primary responsibility for program development and is a certified teacher. She is a native of Harrison, a graduate of Oxford Hills High School, and received a B.S. in Early Childhood Education from Wheelock College in Boston.

"Day Care provides a valuable child care experience for children whose parents need to work," explains Ms. Whitney. "Our staff is very concerned with the individual needs of each child who is part of our center. We provide activities and environments which will further the intellectual, social, emotional and physical development of each child."

The teachers working with Ms. Whitney are Janis Boyd of Bethel, a graduate of the University of Maine at Orono with a degree in Child Development; Brooks Morton of Bethel, who is completing his studies at the U. of M. at Farmington; Donna Richard of North Waterford, who brings valuable experience to the program from previous jobs in day care; and Tracy Plawlock of Bethel, the former Tracy Poland of Woodstock, who has previous volunteer experience with Bethel Head Start. The cook for both Head Start and Day Care Center is Lynda Haegele of Newry. Every one agrees that she is a fantastic cook and has a great concern for proper nutrition for the children.

The Day Care Center is funded through a grant from the Priority Social Services Program of the state of Maine Department of Human Services. Youngsters from low income families pay no fee; otherwise, a sliding scale for family income is used. The West Bethel Day Care Center operates from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., Monday through Friday. At the present time, according to Ms Whitney, there are 15 all day children and six part time. All 21 children will attend full time this summer when Head Start does not operate.

Noting that many people have stopped by the old schoolhouse, Ms Whitney stated "We would like to get to know our neighbors and we welcome any visitors except from 1 to 3 p. m. when the children are napping. Later in the year we will have an open house to show Bethel area people our lovely facility."

TAG DAY PLANNED BY B. E. A. R. S.

The Bethel Emergency Ambulance and Rescue Service, in order to finance purchase of additional ambulance equipment, is planning their second annual Tag Day. It is scheduled for Saturday, May 22, and members of the ambulance service along with other volunteers will be collecting in all sections of the village, as well as in outlying areas. It is hoped they will be welcomed with generous contributions.

MRS. BARTH IS HEADING DEVELOPMENT FUND DRIVE IN GREATER BETHEL AREA

The Stephens Memorial Hospital Development Fund committee for the greater Bethel area is headed by Mrs. Alvin Barth, Jr., of Elm Street, Bethel.

Mrs. Barth has recruited 25 solicitors who will personally call on supporters of the Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Stephens Memorial Hospital is currently involved in a major $1.9 million dollar expansion-renovation program to meet the rising health-care needs of the Oxford Hills area. Construction will include two new wings, increase in bed capacity, and expansion of all departments. To help finance the proposed facility, a community fund raising effort has been in progress with a goal to be raised of $950,000.

Robert W. Goodwin, chairman of the Development Fund and Dr. Kenneth G. Hamilton, president of the Stephens Memorial Hospital Medical Staff presented a program explaining the expansion-renovation project to interested Bethel citizens last Thursday evening.

Due to the excellent response to the Development Fund efforts the campaign has been extended through the month of May to allow for the outlying communities of the hospital's service area to complete their fund drives.

RECREATION BOARD HELD MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

By-laws for the newly formed Bethel Recreation Board were passed at their meeting on Tuesday evening, May 11, at the Town Office, and sent on to the Board of Selectmen for their approval.

David Myers and Nicole Merrill outlined the baseball and softball programs. They explained details of their program and possible field problems they may have. The girls softball is in need of volunteers.

Dan Hannon did the same for the swimming program. The Recreation Board will help him arrange a site and have the water tested.

A summer playground program was again discussed. Gail Sysko of Newry outlined the basis of such a program. She has volunteered to gather more information.

Barbara James will head the softball program for adults. The games will be held Sunday afternoons and will be on a pick up basis.

Lawrence Bartlett, Merton Brown, Art Froburg, Peter Kailey, Virginia Kelly and Susan O'Donnell were present at the meeting. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 18.

ALCOHOLISM FILMS IN LOCAL SCHOOLS MAY 17

Alcoholism is a serious family illness. It is the #3 killer in this country next to cancer and heart disease.

We are fortunate to have this film being shown to all high school students at Rumford, Mexico, Oxford Hills, Telstar, Dixfield and Gould Academy during the week of May 17.

Free public showings will be as follows: Telstar High School, Lecture Room, Thursday, May 20, at 7:30 p. m.; Gould Academy, Bingham Auditorium, Friday, May 21 at 7:30 p. m.

People from A. A. and Al-Anon will be present to answer questions and share their own experiences.

ABOUT THE POPPY

The poppy is worn in memory of the men and women who lost their lives or served our country in our nations' wars. In 1917 and 1918 as American trooops advanced through France and Flanders the only touch of life and beauty they often saw were the wild poppies that bloomed amid the barbed wire, trenches, shell craters and wreckage of the battlefields. These popples have been made by disabled veterans at the United States Veterans Administration Hospital at Togus. The American Legion Auxiliary and volunteers offer them around Memorial Day and hope they will be worn over your heart as a remembrance of all our veterans. 90% of the donations are used in the Bethel area to help veterans and their families.

The 4th and 5th graders are making posters which will be displayed at the Post Office and other stores. Cash prizes will be given by the American Legion Auxiliary for the best posters and they will be presented at the Memorial Day exercises on Monday, May 31.

He said "Adjustment in tax policies must be made. Maine has many small businesses. We still have 10% unemployment in the state. People no longer believe in our government employers. Towns should be allowed to handle their own problems."

BETHEL HEAD START

After being in our newly renovated center for over a month, we find we still do not have a name for the building. We have asked the parents, and have decided to have a "Name the Center" contest. If anyone has any ideas for a name pass it onto a parent or staff member. Although the building was renovated for the Head Start program, which has been operating for children in the Bethel area for several years, it will be available for other community functions. At present, not only is the building being used by Day Care, but also as the delivery and pick-up station for Bethel's newly formed food co-op. For these reasons, we would like a name for our building that will make the community feel welcome. It will still be a basically child oriented building, as we've been around for sometime, and plan on being around for many years more, serving the children and their families in the Bethel area, so keep this in mind as you think of some names for us. There will be drop boxes for your ideas at various merchants in the Bethel, Locke Mills, Bryant Pond area.

Activities at the Center have included projects on gardening and fishing. We are in the process of getting a garden of our own, thanks to the efforts of Day Care Teacher Brooks Morton. We are learning about planting and will be seeing the growing process in due time. We are also learning about different fish, are making our own "old fashioned" fish poles and will be using them soon. Each day finds us involved in activities such as painting, water play, working on different table activities, and of course with the good weather, outdoor play. Come see us some day, join in the fun.

Head Start menu May 10 thru May 14:

Monday: Baked turkey loaf and gravy, stuffing, peas, carrot sticks, pineapple chunks, milk.

Tuesday: Chinese pie, peach and cottage cheese salad, homemade whole wheat biscuits, vanilla pudding, milk.

Wednesday: Mini meatballs and gravy, yellow wax beans, buttered rice, tossed green salad, strawberry dessert, milk.

Thursday: Clam puffs, spinach, cole slaw, banana cup cakes, milk. Friday: school's choice.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Telstar Regional High. What a subject. Sports would say everything about Telstar. Although I no longer go to school there it still concerns me. I can recall spending 45 minutes of class time listening to about the pass in the football game, basketball game or any others sports, that could have saved the game. Now if I were to mention the mistake that was made in chorus, band, drama or art, I would have been shunned upon. If sports, a different story. We the students that like chorus, band, drama and art are always looked down upon. This was brought to the Board of Directors attention, with no response. The year is almost over but a new one will start in September. It's up to these students parents to come forward now. Do you want your money not to be enjoyed by your own children who don't play sports. I graduated as a junior for everything was sports oriented. It's not too late to make a change for next year. Good luck —non sports players.

Thank you,
John H. Learned

BILL COHEN

From Congress

Late last month, the Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA) submitted to Congress an updated national plan for energy research, design and development. This new national plan contained an important change from the initial energy plan prepared last year by ERDA. For the first time, ERDA's energy planners are stressing the importance of conservation in meeting our energy needs in the coming decades.

In its new report to Congress ERDA estimates potential savings from new conservation techniques could amount to almost one million barrels of oil a day within the next five years. By the year 2000, ERDA claims, new technologies could reduce energy use by 25% nationally.

The new government conservation drive will include efforts to develop new energy-saving techniques to improve and simplify conservation in the United States. ERDA scientists will attempt to come up with such basic technological improvements as better home insulation, more energy-efficient building designs and automobile engines which consume less gasoline.

The ERDA plan still calls for development of additional sources of energy to replace oil and gas in the years ahead. It identifies high-priority areas for research, including nuclear reactors, coal utilization, oil and gas recovery techniques, synthetic fuels, solar heating and cooling, and exploitation of geothermal resources.

In all cases, however, this development will take some years to complete. In the meantime, conservation will be a vital element in our efforts to secure energy self-sufficiency. As ERDA points out in its report to Congress, it generally costs far less to save a barrel of oil than to buy another one. Each barrel we save through conservation represents one less barrel we will have to import from foreign sources.

There are a number of proposals pending in the Congress which will establish programs to encourage conservation. I have long been a sponsor, for example, of legislation to provide homeowners with tax credits for improvements in insulation and design which will save energy. I intend to continue to press for this and other programs which enable us to preserve our dwindling oil and gas supplies long enough to permit full development of renewable, alternative resources.

Consumer Publications

With the coming of warmer weather, the thoughts of many Maine residents are naturally turning to summer activities.

The Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration has recently published a new summer edition of its index of consumer publication. These consumer publications, many of which are free, provide information that should be useful to Mainers now making plans for the warmer months.

In all, the new Consumer Information Index lists 240 free or low cost government publications. Here are just a few of the available booklets Maine residents might like to read:

—Common Sense in Buying a Used Car (10 pages, free): How to inspect a car before you buy; also discusses the odometer law and used car warranties.

—Outdoor Safety Tips (12 pages, 35 cents): Campers' and hikers' pocket guide on survival, safety and first aid.

—Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables (32 pages, 45 cents): How to select ingredients and equipment for preparation and processing of fruits and vegetables in the home.

—1976 Bicentennial Activities Calendar (32 pages, free): Lists more than 550 special events, activities, and exhibits that will be held this year in National Park areas.

You may get these publications at the prices indicated, along with the free Consumer Information Index, by writing to: Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009. Do not write to my office, as it will only cause a delay in delivery.

Greenwood City —

— Mrs. Collata Morgan, Corres. —

Early I stood on the porch gazed at the pond's unruffled surface and the mountain's image smiled back at me from nature's own mirror. I raised my eyes from image to reality and in my mind's eye, saw beyond the forest, the grassy slopes, mountain brooks that ran with liquid laughter over the rocks, then whispered as they crossed the mossy bottoms in shady gulley's, to make their way out like a flowing ribbon beneath the spring-green willows and birches. High above these the lonely wind-song would soon sigh across the peaks of the distant hills as they shimmered behind their veil of haze.

The day held a promise of good weather and I planned to see some of it by afternoon.

Leaving the highway, I first took the Diamond Ledge trail. It led through sheltered woods where robins and juncos fed under the trees.

Here I discovered beds of wood anemones holding the essence of spring and purity in their quivering cups. Whittier wrote of them "....Wind-flowers sway against the throbbing heart of May."

The little bellwort flower was very abundant, too. It bears one or two small lily-like blossoms which droop modestly beneath curving stems.

Occasionally I jumped from rock to rock to keep from the water soaked trail.

A single crow flapped silently across my path casting its shadow ahead of me. Under the bright sky birds were active, some trilling their songs as they flitted among the trees and the moldering, mossy stumps.

The huge boulders, a giant's jumble of gray rocks, splotched with lichens, I used at times either to sit upon or lean against.

Leaving the trail, I turned left through the woods. Here the land lay like a slightly tilted basin and cradled by higher ground rising around it. Alder studded lines running down the hill sides marked the course of a mountain stream.

Ferns were unfolding on banks and along the brook and flooded away as far as I could see across the woodland floor. They fringed the cracks of ledges and at the base of boulders which were scattered like sleeping cattle across the hill side of a pasture. I collected a few fiddleheads whose tightly coiled tips had not yet begun to unfurl and took them home with me.

As I climbed the ridge, I could look down on the pond and the hill beyond with its shades of color which makes the heart sing with the pure joy of living.

There was freshness in the greening of the maples and willows and the spring grass that carpeted the openings.

Sitting here in a sunny spot against a boulder, I was reluctant to tear from the scene that rimmed the shore and cast distorted reflections on the now wind-ruffled water.

A lone duck swooped low and I shaded my eyes, following its descent. It landed with a whirring of wings, cutting a riffling pattern on the surface. It then settled its feathers like a little old lady primly arranging her skirts. Through my binoculars I tagged it a male wood duck. Its extravagant crest shown irridescent blue-green. His high snow collar gleamed under his chin. I could make out a chestnut-striped chest, too, which was separated from his sides by a stripe of black and white. From some where appeared a female gliding out from the bushes. The white ellipse of her eye-patch giving expression to her demure brown face. As I watched, the two swam away, side by side, he still with the air of a caballero, fiesta bound. Sunddenly, she flew, uttering her characteristic little cry, and he followed in silence.

I, too, moved on descending a hill and cutting across the stubble of a field and into the road leaving the spring feel of damp moss for the hard pavement. Under the clear afternoon sky I struck out for home.

AUTO LOANS
11% 9¾% or LESS!

We have dropped our new car loan rate, for a limited time, from 11% to an ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE of 9¾%.

Yes, that's good news. But here's some more news from Casco that could mean that you can pay even less than 9¾%.

We have just established a new, permanent installment loan pricing policy called RATE BREAK. With RATE BREAK you can get a better break on the rate you pay when you borrow, if you have your savings in Savings Manager or a NOW account at Casco.

RATE BREAK reduces the cost of auto loans, home improvement loans, vacation loans, and almost all other kinds of installment borrowing.

So whether or not you have ever banked at Casco before, do yourself a favor. Come in and let us show you, without any obligation, how RATE BREAK can give you a better break on the rate you pay when you borrow, if you have your savings at Casco, too.
